Yalding, Kent. 6 Jun, 1260 PB Doubles: Mark Hughes 1, Keith Nicholson 2, Trevor Stern 3, Mark Bollen 4, Richard Young (C) 5, Bert Boxall 6. By all male Gemini Yalding ringers. £2

At Yalding, Kent we have, over recent years, had quite a few Gemini ringers. Being of that birth sign myself, I have often wondered whether we would ever reach that magic number of six, capable of ringing a quarter peal. That moment arrived, and a suitable date was fixed in the Gemini season. Coincidentally all are male. Could this be the first quarter of its kind? Richard Young, Tower Captain.

Bathwick Fashion

Sunday 13 June

Sometimes, ringing arrangements are easy.

Take this morning, for instance. A quarter of Stedman Caters, and all the arranging it needed was for tower captain Robin Stubbs to ask ten people at the practice on Wednesday.

Sunday 20 June

Sometimes, re-arrangements are just as easy. Michael Powell unexpectedly finds himself available this morning. Will Willans steps down, Michael gets an extra quarter. Will reports for Sunday morning duty at St. Michael's, and everyone is happy. But sometimes...

Friday 25 June

There's a 'Bathwick plus' quarter at St. Michael's this coming Sunday, and at practice this evening tower captain David Kelly finds something wrong with the tenor clapper which will need attention before then.

That's the first thing.

In the 'Rising Sun' later on, David agrees to remind former Sherston ringer Chris Bush that he is due to ring in this quarter...

Saturday 26 June

...however, Chris has no recollection of any such arrangement. But he agrees to come in for it, and all is well — for a while.

Sunday 27 June

'You're a lucky man, Will. In fact, you're doubly lucky...'

David Kelly is recounting his exchange with Chris Bush, also pointing out that the clapper has failed to respond to treatment.

'Fortunately, we do have a spare' he observes. Just how many tower masters keep a spare tenor clapper among their souvenirs? Once again, all is well. Or so it seems. In fact, the best is yet to come.

At lunchtime, Liz Lane phones Maggie Willans, there's been an accident in the kitchen and Liz has cut her finger badly — 'I'm very sorry, but I can't ring this evening'. Maggie agrees to take her place.

A little later, Chris Bush phones, to check the start time — five to five, for a six o'clock service. However, at the appointed time, seven of the band are there — but not Chris.

Will stands on the tower doorway steps, looking along High Street more in hope than in expectation, occasionally glancing above the throngs of tourists and the traffic to where the Abbey clock shows time passing by. Five o'clock... five past... ten past... At the fifty-ninth minute of the eleventh hour, so to speak, Chris bursts out of the Podium shopping mall, moving at speed.

'I went to the wrong church!' he gasps as he gets his breath back. 'I went to St. Mary's and it was all locked up, and...'

Once under way, the quarter proceeds without incident. How different!

Barnes ringers go West

On 14th May, Barnes ringers and friends set off for their now traditional long weekend in the West Country. This had been preceded by weeks of painstaking organisation, ensuring that we were all equipped with detailed instructions and itineraries. London rush hour traffic did its best to upset the morning's ringing, but most of us rang at least two towers before assembling for lunch in Drayton.

We all appreciated this year's full, but slightly less hectic, schedule. The majority of us were able to ring at most of the thirty towers on our list. We enjoyed a wide variety of bells, including some of Somerset's lovely heavy rings. Particularly memorable were the eights at Wellington, Ilminster and St. Davids, Exeter.

There was a mixture of general ringing and quarter peals. At Milverton, London Major was a first for a Barnes weekend; there were also several individual firsts, and personal milestones. We rang a total of four quarter peals on Sunday morning, including one for service at our Devon home tower, Bampton. Our handbell ringers were less successful. Banished to the garden of Broom Cottage for proposing to attempt a quarter at the unreasonable hour of 7.30 on Saturday morning, they were finally defeated by the rain! As well as all the ringing, we had time to visit our old friends at the Exeter Inn, and to fit in those all-important Devon cream teas.

We would like to thank all those who allowed us to ring at their towers, and the ringers who turned out to meet us, and in some cases stayed to ring with us. Special thanks to the ringers of St. Paul's Tiverton, and of Exeter Cathedral, who welcomed us to their practice nights. Thanks also to Jill and Patricia for the catering arrangements (the sociable meals in the cottage were particularly appreciated!), to Eddie for all the meticulous planning, which certainly paid off, and of course to Colin, for cheerfully accommodating fourteen ringers in his own cottage, and for his invaluable local knowledge.
